Summary: Regulation is one of the most important mechanisms by which the federal government sets policy. In this course, students engage in the federal regulatory process, analyzing an active regulation and filing public comments (from a public interest perspective) with a federal agency.

Other assigned readings will be made available on Blackboard or the Internet.

Students will also read – in their selected area of interest – agency regulatory proposals and supporting material, and public comments filed with agencies.

Learning objectives:

- Understand how regulations are developed.
- Explore how regulation can serve the public interest, and how to determine when a regulatory proposal might not.
- Gather information from government and other sources to evaluate a specific regulatory proposal in your area of interest.
- File comments from the perspective of the public interest on an active regulatory proposal.
- Effectively present your findings succinctly in a mock administrative hearing.
- Draft a short newspaper commentary (op ed) that communicates your analysis to the general public.
Course format:

- Practical lectures on the regulatory development process and regulatory analysis.
- Guest lectures from faculty and practitioners involved in setting regulatory policy.
- Workshops on effectively communicating legal, economic, and policy ideas through different media.
- Mock hearings where students will present their arguments regarding their selected regulation.
- Preparation of public comments on current regulatory proposals filed on the public record.
- Op eds based on student’s analysis.

Attendance policy: It is important that you attend all classes, arrive on time, and read the assigned material before class so that you may contribute your insights to the class discussion and learn from the insights of other students. If you must miss a class, please send me an email in advance of the class to let me know that you will be absent. Attendance as such will not be graded but it is unlikely that you will do well in the graded assignments without regular attendance in class.

Course Effort: Across the 15-week semester, students should expect to devote 7.5 hours per week to this class. This total includes a two-hour class session each week, as well as an average of 5.5 hours of out-of-class time spent on assigned reading, class preparation, and assignments. Some weeks will entail less reading than others, and the major written assignments are due at the end of the semester, so getting ahead on assignments earlier in the semester will help you manage your time towards the end.

APPENDIX: UNIVERSITY & TRACHTENBERG SCHOOL CLASS POLICIES

1. Incomplete: A student must consult with the instructor to obtain a grade of I (incomplete) no later than the last day of classes in a semester. At that time, the student and instructor will both sign the CCAS contract for incompletes and submit a copy to the School Director. Please consult the TSPPPA Student Handbook or visit http://www.gwu.edu/~ccas/faculty/files/Incomplete_poli0.pdf for the complete CCAS policy on incompletes.

2. Submission of Written Work Products Outside of the Classroom: It is the responsibility of the student to ensure that an instructor receives each written assignment. Students can submit written work electronically only with the express permission of the instructor.

3. Submission of Written Work Products after Due Date: Policy on Late Work: All work must be turned in by the assigned due date in order to receive full credit for that assignment, unless an exception is expressly made by the instructor.

4. Academic Honesty: All examinations, papers, and other graded work products and assignments are to be completed in conformance with the George Washington University Code of Academic Integrity. (see: http://www.studentconduct.gwu.edu/code-academic-integrity) Academic dishonesty is defined as cheating of any kind, including misrepresenting one's own work, taking credit for the work of others without crediting them and without appropriate authorization, and the fabrication of information. Note especially the definition of plagiarism: "intentionally representing the words, ideas, or sequence of ideas of another as one’s own in any academic exercise; failure to attribute any of the following: quotations, paraphrases, or borrowed information."

5. Changing Grades After Completion of Course: No changes can be made in grades after the conclusion of the semester, other than in cases of clerical error.

6. The Syllabus: This syllabus is a guide to the course for the student. Sound educational practice requires flexibility and the instructor may therefore, at her/his discretion, revise content and requirements during the semester.

7. Safety and Security: In the case of an emergency, if at all possible, the class should shelter in place. If the building that the class is in is affected, follow the evacuation procedures for the building. After evacuation, seek shelter at a predetermined rendezvous location.

8. University policy on observance of religious holidays: In accordance with University policy, students should notify faculty during the first week of the semester of their intention to be absent from class on their day(s) of religious observance. For details and policy, see: students.gwu.edu/accommodations-religious-holidays.

9. Accommodation for Students with Disabilities: Any student who may need an accommodation based on the potential impact of a disability should contact the Disability Support Services office at 202-994-8250 in the Rome Hall, Suite 102, to establish eligibility and to coordinate reasonable accommodations. For additional information see: disabilitysupport.gwu.edu/

10. University Mental Health Services Center: The University's Mental Health Services (202-994-5300) offers 24/7 assistance and referral to address students' personal, social, career, and study skills problems. Services for students include: crisis and emergency mental health consultations confidential assessment, counseling services (individual and small group), and referrals. For additional information see: counselingcenter.gwu.edu/
